BUSHFIRE MENTAL HEALTH SUPPORT

Murrumbidgee Local Health District is encouraging anyone who has been impacted by the bushfires to prioritise their emotional wellbeing as well as that of people around them.

In a disaster such as the current fires, people may feel distressed, overwhelmed, sad, angry, afraid and grieve at what has been lost. They may have difficulty coping with those emotions. People impacted by the fires are likely to worry a lot more than usual and have trouble concentrating and making decisions.

Supportive counselling is available for people directly impacted by the fires.

Free face-to-face support

If you are struggling and currently located in Tumut or Wagga Wagga, there is someone you can talk to. You don't need an appointment, just drop in and say you need to talk to a counsellor.

MLHD has increased the amount of counsellors available on site in Tumut and Wagga Wagga. Free face to face supportive counselling is available 7 days a week.

- Tumut Regional Family Services
182 Wynyard Street
9am - 5pm
- Wagga Wagga Disaster Assistance Centre
Equex Centre, Corner Koorringal Road and Copland Street
9am - 5pm

Free Telephone support

If you are not located in either of these communities, you can still get assistance by calling the Murrumbidgee Local Health District AccessLine on 1800 800 944 and let them know you have been affected by the bushfires and need to talk to a counsellor. They will arrange for you to be contacted by someone from your local Health team.

In an emergency or if you or someone else is in immediate danger, call 000 or go to your nearest hospital emergency department.
