Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Tumut Hospital Redevelopment?
The proposed services include:

- Emergency Department
- Inpatient Unit including beds for rehabilitation and maternity
- Maternity Services
- Operating Theatre
- Wellness Centre including ambulatory clinics, allied health, oral health, renal dialysis, mental health, drug and alcohol
- Quiet room for families
- Clinical support services including a Medical Imaging Unit and Pathology Services
- Administration and non-clinical support areas

How much will the Redevelopment cost?
The NSW Government has committed $50 million towards the Tumut Hospital Redevelopment.

Who is involved in the Redevelopment?
Health Infrastructure (HI) is working with the Murrumbidgee Local Health District to plan for the new hospital.

The lead consultant team for the Tumut Hospital Redevelopment has been appointed. Contracts have been awarded to DCWC (Project Manager), C2R (Cost Manager), and Jacobs (Architect).

A dedicated Redevelopment Project Team has been formed.

Will construction impact on health services?
Services will continue at Tumut Hospital during the construction of the new facility. Once construction starts, there may be changes to access and car parking.

Every effort will be made to minimise disruption. Staff and the community will be informed of any planned changes.

What stage is the project up to?
There are a number of stages and processes that need to be taken in a hospital redevelopment project to ensure the appropriate health service upgrades are delivered to the local community.

Importantly, we need to continue to provide all existing hospital services throughout the redevelopment.

Each project usually includes three main stages:

- Planning
- Design
- Delivery

Each of these 3 stages include several steps.

In the planning stage of the Tumut Hospital Redevelopment, the Service Plan has been completed. The Master Plan for the site has also been developed. Public feedback is being sought on the plan until Friday 26 April 2019.

Will Tumut ambulance station be relocated?
The relocation of the Tumut ambulance station to the hospital campus is not part of the redevelopment scope. However, as part of the master planning process, adequate space has been identified on the hospital site for a future ambulance station.

When will construction start?
Pending all required approvals and statutory approvals, construction of the new Tumut Hospital is due start towards the end of 2019. Updates will be provided as the project progresses.

How do I get updates on the project?
There will be regular updates on the progress of the project with newsletters and details on project milestones and achievements in the media and social media as well as on Murrumbidgee Local Health District website.

Staff and community members will also be kept up to date with drop-in information sessions. Updates will be displayed in the Hospital’s ward entrance.
